DETAILED ACTION

Continued Examination Under 37 CFR 1.114

1. A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on 11/2/06 has been entered.

Information Disclosure Statement

2. The information disclosure statement (IDS) submitted on 2/26/07 was filed after the mailing date of the Request for Continued Examination on 1/4/07. The submission is in compliance with the provisions of 37 CFR 1.97. Accordingly, the information disclosure statement is being considered by the examiner.

Drawings

3. The drawings were received on 11/2/06. These drawings are acceptable.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

4. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

Art Unit: 3636

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

5. Claims 27-30 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Lin in US Publication 2003/0233967.

a. Regarding Claims 27 and 28, Lin teaches a table with a blow molded tabletop (see Lin, paragraph 0017 "table plate 1 is made by a blow molding method") with first and second leg assemblies (23) movable between extended and collapsed positions, a support assembly having a first (A) and second (D) mounting structures integrally formed in the table top, first and second support members (27), first and second crossbars (26), and a recessed portion (G) formed in the outer surface of the mounting structure and extending through a side wall (as evidenced by line at H) and being disposed generally parallel (the handle is parallel to the table top lower surface) to a lower portion of the table top to form at least part of a handle.

Lin, Figure 1 (detail)

- b. Regarding Claim 29, Lin further teaches that the mounting structures have a generally C-shaped configuration and first (B and E respectively) and second (C and F respectively) ends and that the mounting structures are spaced apart from and facing each other.

Art Unit: 3636

c. Regarding Claim 30, Lin further teaches that the first and second ends of the first and second mounting structures are aligned and spaced apart from each other.

6. Claims 32-35 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Lin in US Publication 2003/0233967.

d. Regarding Claims 32 and 33, Lin teaches a table with a blow molded tabletop (see Lin, paragraph 0017 "table plate 1 is made by a blow molding method") with first and second leg assemblies (23) movable between extended and collapsed positions, a support assembly having a first (A) and second (D) mounting structures integrally formed in the table top, first and second support members (27), first and second crossbars (26), and a recessed portion (G) formed in the lower surface of the tabletop and disposed between the first mounting structure and the table top (the handle is between the mounting structure and the lower surface across from the handle) to form at least part of a handle.

e. Regarding Claim 34, Lin further teaches that the mounting structures have a generally C-shaped configuration and first (B and E respectively) and second (C and F respectively) ends and that the mounting structures are spaced apart from and facing each other.

f. Regarding Claim 35, Lin further teaches that the first and second ends of the first and second mounting structures are aligned and spaced apart from each other.

Response to Arguments

7. Applicant's arguments filed 11/2/06 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. Please see clarified rejections above.

Conclusion

8. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
